FOREWORD

The Howenstine Family Reunion group asked that Mary & I compile this book of Hauenstein, Howenstine, and Howenstein families, a collection of eleven progenitors and their descendants, who came from Germany and Switzerland starting from 1747. We have traveled to county courthouses, libraries, genealogical societies, grave yards, Switzerland and family reunion meetings to gather the family data. Now that it is completed, knowing the vast amount of information that is still out there, we feel a great satisfaction in knowing this book will now be a great genealogical resource for those wanting to continue the research.

PREFACE

This book is a collection of family data from original sources so organized as to attempt to tell the story of these pioneers who left their mother country, family and friends, possibly in a raft down the Rhine River to a port they did not know and a ship to cross the ocean to an unknown land. Land was their primary goal. We have not attempted to make a family connection to any of the families in Europe. There are many sources of Hauenstein history published in German, "one that we have in our library is "Die Ausserpfalzischen Hauenstein", by Walter Kratz Hauenstein. Another is the Hauenstein & Schifferly Families of Ohio, by Clerice Fisher.

One Hauenstein family from Israel, Wilhelm Hauenstein, Pola Kopel-Goldberg and Shirli Hauenstein attended the Hauenstein Family reunion in Rafs, Switzerland early August 1990. Their family had come from the Tegerfelden, Switzerland area. Mary made instant friends with them and enjoyed their company. This family is well written in Walter Kratz Hauenstein book.

We have eleven chapters each with their own index, footnote and picture section (if provided). Review the table of contents and start your search for an enjoyable family treat.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

For many years work has been done in gathering data for this book. Most sources not knowing what was being gathered and where it was archived. Since 1988 serious work was begun in gathering, translating, and editing the material here presented, a sizable number of people have aided its preparation-too large, in fact to be named here in entirety. The following persons, however, must be named because of their contributions.

Lois Perfect, and Margaret L. Beck compiled the family line from George Howenstine to the present and is in the Indiana Room of the Huntington IN, City and Township Library. The footnote pages reveal all the contributors to this fine genealogy of Hauenstein, Howenstine, Howenstein Families and their Descendants.

The Howenstine Family Reunion Group has provided much material and inspiration to complete this project.

The staffs of the libraries, archives, and courthouses visited were uniformly helpful. Their willingness to allow material in their care to be published is appreciated.

My wife, Mary Emma, has been of the greatest assistance in completing this project, she however suffered a stroke last November and has not regained her genealogy knowledge as yet. She checked my translations, and generally provided critically sympathetic support. She has been collecting family data for twenty years and this is the first of several books that will bring the data from our genealogy work room to researchers, family members and interested parties.

Unterendingen

Census-1900=154, 1930=152, 1982=194, 1984=240.
Mayor-Senn Kurt
Town Clerk-Scharer Beatrice

The foundations of the village NIEDER-ENDINGEN as it is known today, goes back to the middle ages. The "Castle of Knights" stood most likely at the south side of the village in an Alpine Meadow. It was called "Burgweise" or Manor Castle. In 1934 a four cornered wall was discovered which could have been part of a watch tower. Unfortunately, records from the 11th to the 16th century of the area are very sparse. A small tower like building in the middle of the village is perhaps related to the past through its ancient architecture.

A prominent ancient building located on the old highway is Hause [Sonnenblick] (Sunny View). In the 18th and 19th centuries it went under the tavern name of the "Drei Sternen" or three (3) Stares. The tavern/hotel served at that time as a wayside station for wagoners who changed their teams there and rested from dusty roads and fatigue.

On this stretch, one travels up the steep Bozberg mountains over which goods (trade) and even wines were transported. In recent years structures were restored with private resources and antique [period] homes constructed.

At the North side of the village is a Brick-Kiln, which as a family business, served the local inhabitants. The raw material, clay, was mined from the edge of a pit and usually in winter transported to the Kiln with horse drawn teams. The brick factory succumbed to modern methods in 1966 and fired limestone, which could be obtained on the southern edge of the forest.

The inhabitants with the family names Hauenstein, Kunz, Senn and Weibel formed the main part of the village.

Around the middle of the last hundred years (1800's), the large families were not able to earn sufficient income. As a result numerous young people and even whole families traveled away to other countries in order to a better life. The family "Weibel" has completely disappeared. Every year foreign visitors come to our village to visit the origin of their forefathers.

Unterendingen was an exceptional farm town, there to each house belonged a stall or granary with a barn. Wheat and Rye were grown for many years and served as the principle income. Today unfortunately, this situation has changed. The waving grain fields has disappeared and one sees indian corn, but also peas and potatoes dominate the acres.

iv. Hans Jacob Hauenstein. Born, 12 Jun 1780, in Unterendingen, Switz. Died, 30 Jul 1780, in Unterendingen, Switz.

SIXTH GENERATION

6. Andrew[6] Hauenstein (Hans Jacob, 5)[5]. Born, 5 Jan 1779, in Unterendingen, Aargau, Switz[6]. Died, 5 Oct 1838, in Baugo Twp., Elkhart, IN[7]. Immigration: 1831[8]. The Burgerregister at Unterendingen records Andreas, Schwerzli's, as Jakob Hauenstein's Sohn, records his marriage, the births of all of their children, and the deaths of Andreas and Barbara, Jacob, Johannes. Their records are also in the Reformed Church of Switzerland at Tegerfelden. Andrew's Passport, issued by Canton d'Argovie, #451, dated 2nd day of the month of March, 1831, states that he is 52 years old, going to Philadelphia with his wife, Barbe, age 42, and children, Jacques 20, Andre 18, Jean 14, Henri 13, Jean Rodolph 11, Abram 8, Frederic 7, and Anna Marie 3. Andrew is described as being stocky, 5 feet 1 1/2 inches tall, black hair, round forehead, black eyebrows, brown eyes, pointed nose, little mouth, incomplete teeth, black beard, round chin, long face, and having no particular markings. The family has not been located on any passenger lists, however, their passport had notes written on the back asking for their safe passage through France, where they were to sail from LaHavre. John Duerward Hauenstein had this passport in his possession in 1978, copy in possession of author. It was a roll of parchment, one side was written in German, the other side written in French. Although it is stated that they are going to Philadelphia, no record has been found there of their arrival. On 2nd November 1831, Andrew purchased the east half of SW 1/4 of Section 22, Township 17 of Range 13, in the County of Wayne, District of Wooster, OH, containing 53 97/100 acres, for $220. A Deed of Sale from Norman Wade & Margrate his wife to Andrew Hauenstein, dated 2 November 1841, was recorded 8 November 1841, in Wayne County, OH, in Deed Bk 9, p. 61, by the Wayne County Recorder, Wooster, OH. Andrew was naturalized in Wayne County, OH, on 10 March 1837; the naturalization is recorded in Wayne County Court of Common Pleas, Journal 9, p. 114. Andrew and Barbary, his wife, sold their land on the 2nd day of September 1837, to Emanuel Guyer of the County of Dauphin and State of Pennsylvania, for the sum of $800, recorded 2 November 1837, Deed Bk 17, pp. 637-639, Wayne County Recorder, Wooster, OH. According to a Notebook kept by Frederick Howenstine, now in possession of Marshall C Howenstine, the family moved to Elkhart Co., IN, during the months of January and February, 1838, traveling by wagons and teams to their new home. Elkhart County was still in a very primitive state of development at this time, with log cabins, no railroads, and a very meager population. They located on the River Road in Baugo Township. Both parents died in the fall of 1838, and are buried in the cemetery in Elkhart. In the spring of 1839 the children were scattered among strangers in Baugo Township. George Sell and David Carpenter were administrators of the estate of Andrew Howenstine. The sale bill on file in the clerks office shows: Sale Bill: $749.18 Amount of property sold after first sale..... 6.82; Notes on men in Ohio, $334.17 Amount of interest collected on said notes, $12.80; Total $1108.42. Disbursements were made for claims against the estate for $351.14, leaving the sum of $717.16 to be divided equally among the heirs. John Howenstine and Harriet his wife, Abraham Howenstine and Susan his wife, Rudolph Howenstine and Anna his wife, Henry Howenstine and Frederick Howenstine, heirs of Andrew Howenstine of Elkhart County, sold 80 acres located in the East half of the North west quarter of Section twenty three, Township 37, range 4 East, to Andrew Howenstine, on December 24, 1851, apparently to settle the estate; recorded in Elkhart Co., IN, Deed Bk 14, pp. 640-641, Elkhart Co. Recorder.

He married Barbary Hauenstein, daughter of Johannes Hauenstein and Anna Maria Werder, 6 Mar 1810, in Unterendingen, Aargau, Switz. Born, 9 Nov 1788, in Unterendingen, Aargau, Switz[9]. Died, 30 Sep 1838, in Baugo Twp., Elkhart, IN[10]. Immigration: 1831[11]. Children:

i. John Jacob[7] Hauenstein. Born, 6 Aug 1811, in Unterendingen, Aargau, Switz[6]. Died, after 1831, in America[6]. Baptism: 11 Aug 1811. Immigration: 1831.

7 ii. Andrew Hauenstein.

iii. Johannes Hauenstein. Born, 19 Aug 1815, in Unterendingen, Switz[6]. Died, 17 Sep 1815, in Unterendingen, Switz[6].

He married Mary Ann Chokey, daughter of Ernest Augustus Chokey and Johanna Charlotta Beirchelin, 20 Jun 1880, in Elkhart Co., IN[52]. This is a name that is significant of long residence and prominent activity in Elkhart County. For many years he has been one of the leading farmers and citizens of Baugo Township. It was in Baugo Township on the old farm of his parents that Jacob F Hauenstein was born on 25 December 1854. He was a welcomed Christmas gift on that day to his parents. They came to Baugo Township in 1838, journeying across the country by wagons and teams to their new home. By that time there were many log cabins scattered over the prairies and in the woods, but the population was very meager and sparse. There were no railroads or improved roads and the present city of Elkhart was only a hamlet. It was in this wholesome environment of the county district that Jacob grew to manhood. He attended the rural school at Jamestown, the Elkhart High School and the Northern Indiana Normal at Valparaiso. Much of his public service has been in behalf of education. He was a school teacher for many years, township trustee for several years and always interested in keeping a high standard of school in the community. While teaching he also farmed one hundred seventy five acres in section twenty three of Baugo Township. Jacob and Mary were active in the Lutheran Church, the Baugo Grange, The Elkhart Pomona of "Patrons of Husbandry" and gave a considerable portion of their time to the study of the problems connected with rural life.

vi. Frena Hauenstein. Born, 1859. Died, 1907, in Baugo Twp., Elkhart Co., IN. Frena was a farm manager.

22 vii. George Washington Hauenstein.

viii. Rudolph (Bud) Hauenstein. Occupation: Railroad.

10. Abraham[7] Hauenstein (Andrew, 6). Born, 21 Jun 1822, in Unterendingen, Aargau, Switz[6]. Died, 1881, in Piper City, IL. Baptism: 21 Jun 1822. Immigration: 1831[53]. Occupation: Farmer. From the Ford County Courthouse, Payton, IL, in Death Record Bk.1 p.25 #322, Abraham Hounstine, died 31 March 1881, 3:30 pm heart disease, Piper City, IL, died instantly, buried Piper City, Cemetery, recorded May 1881.

He married, first, Susan Kendall, 8 Mar 1846, in Elkhart Co., IN[54]. Born, 1826, in New Jersey[55]. Died, circa 1855[56]. Children:

i. Mary Melissa[8] Hauenstein. Born, 1846, in IN. Census: 1850[57]. Census: 1860[58]. She married James H Goodrich.

When about 17 years old he moved to Chicago, Illinois, where he attended the public schools and later, the Metropolitan Business College. He entered the service of the North Western Railway Company in the freight department, where he remained until the call to arms in 1898. On his return from service in Cuba, he became associated with the C.F.Meyers Collection Agency, and later engaged in the cigar business until a year and a half ago, when he was stricken with the illness which subsequently proved fatal. He died of a paralytic stroke. His military record shows that he enlisted as a private in Company "L" First Infantry, Illinois, U.S.V., April 26th, 1898, serving during the Spanish American War, participating in the siege of the City of Santiago de Cuba, mustered out in Chicago, Illinois, November 17th, 1898, his discharge reading, "SERVICE - honest and faithful; CHARACTER-excellent." xiv. Frederich Hauenstein. Born, 1872[62]. Died, circa 1874. Burial in Ford Co., IL.

SEVENTH GENERATION

11. Frederick[7] Howenstein (Andrew, 6). Born, 30 Dec 1824, in Unterendingen, Switz[6]. Died, 5 Jan 1906, in Goshen, IN[68]. Baptism: 2 Jan 1825[26]. Burial in Oakridge Cem.[69]. Census: 1900[70]. Immigration: 1831[14]. At the age of 14 he united with the M.E. church in the month of June 1843 at what was then known at the North School House in Baugo Township, Elkhart County, IN. In 1848 he went back to Ohio where he was licensed an exhorter and local preacher. He returned to Elkhart County in the early part of the winter of 1854 where he took work under Elder Colchasier as Jr. preacher on Baugo circuit with Dr. Foster who was preacher in charge. He asked the conference in the spring of 1864 for a location, which was granted and he moved to Goshen, IN. He was a circuit rider for the Methodist church and rode horseback between Bristol and Middlebury, IN. He changed his name to Howenstein. He was strong as an evangelist in his religious belief and loyal to his church and pastor. He had devoted his energies to the fire insurance business in his later years. His father, Andrew Hauenstein, was one of the pioneer farmers of Baugo Township and Frederick spent his early years at the same occupation. In 1864 he came to Goshen, Indiana where he has lived ever since. He was elected justice of the peace by the democrats of this township and served two terms, declining a third nomination. He also studied law and for three years was in partnership with the late I. A. Simmons. He was a member of the Elkhart County Bar. In 1894 he was the candidate of his party for city judge, but was defeated with the rest of the city democratic ticket. He was an honest and conscientious man and was highly esteemed by the people of Goshen.

In September 1941 he went to Anchorage, Alaska, to do government work. The December 17, 1943, Anchorage Alaska Times, tells of Johns death. He died of burns at four a.m., 16 December, in the Providence hospital following an explosion at his home on Thirteenth Avenue between East D and East E Streets. He had walked half way to the hospital after the explosion and was picked up by a taxicab driver, when he noticed his plight. He mistook a can of high test aviation gasoline for kerosene when he sought to light a fire in his stove. The explosion set fire to his underwear and splattered gasoline throughout the interior of the cabin. He removed his burning underwear and managed to put the fire out, then redressed and started for the hospital. John had been in Anchorage about four years and was employed by the Alaska Road Commission and the Alaska Railroad.

Died, 25 Nov 1945, in Waukegan, Lake Co., IL[117]. Burial in Bethel Cem. Lela was an LPN and helped many families with their medical problems. She traveled to Colorado in 1917 for health reasons and stayed with Frank & Tillie Dillner, a cousin on the Bruere side. The change of climate helped with her pneumonia problem, so in September 1918 the whole family boarded a train with furniture and traveled to Clovis, New Mexico. After the first winter renting an apartment, they moved onto a farm. The Dillners moved to the area also. Grace Burt remembers visiting friends in a dugout home. It was so dusty the dinner plates were placed upside down until you were ready to eat.

Burial in Orland, Glenn Co., CA[97]. Some precious moments by Judith Yvonne Finch Brown...Lottie graduated from Grand River High School in 1903. She gave one of the orations entitled, "Watch Words of Success." She then attended Leon Institute in Leon, IA. In 1905 she moved to North Dakota with her brother, Charles, and her three sisters. They homesteaded adjoining land near Scranton and each built a sod house. Lottie took the county test and became a teacher. Some of the time she lived in the school house and some times she "boarded round." The school closed during January and February because the snow was so high the children couldn't get to school safely. In the fall of 1908, she met Murry Finch at a land sale. They were married during the school break the following January. They lived in one of the soddies. Lottie didn't like the cold North Dakota winters, so they decided to move to Orland, CA where a new irrigation project was being developed. In March of 1911, when Hazel was old enough to travel, they moved to Orland. It took five days by passenger train. Murry rode in the freight train with the mules and the cows so that he could feed and care for them. They bought a farm about four miles east of Orland on Stoney Creek and what later became Highway 32. In 1914 they had a good view of Mt. Lassen erupting. Murry sold their mules in 1916 to the Kaiser in Germany and bought a car. He still had some horses which he used for farming. In 1920 Henry Hauenstein, Lottie's father, came from Iowa to build their new house. The house had the main floor well above the ground with many steps leading up to the front door.

This was a necessity since Stoney Creek regularly flooded in those days. In 1935 Murry bought his first tractor. They raised sheep, apricots, prunes and wheat on their farm. The fruit was sun dried. Their children didn't like having to cut the 'cots and take the pits out, but they all had to work at it. Lottie made bread every day. Sometimes when she had to go to town she would take the dough along to raise in the car. When it was ready, she would punch it down and continue on with her errands. Lottie and Murry belonged to the Federated Church (Methodist and Presbyterian) in Orland. In her later life she also became a Christian Scientist and was guided by her "mother in spirit." After Murry died in 1951, she sold the farm on Highway 32 and moved into Orland. Her house was accross the street from the library park at 916 Fourth Street. She died of leukemia at the Paradise home of her daughter, Hazel.

Then he attended Sacramento City College where he studied aeronautical engineering. He then worked as an apprentice for Southern Pacific in their equipment maintenance yard in Sacramento. He married Yvonne who he had met on a blind date. In World War II he enlisted in the Navy and served as a firecontrolman on a destroyer, the USS McGowan, in the South Pacific. After the War, he went into farming in the Plaza District about ten miles south and east of Orland with his father, Murry, and his brother, Randal. He participated in many community groups and activities: Rotary (Pres.), American Field Service, Glenn County Farm Bureau (Director and President), California Farm Bureau (Director), Glenn County Chamber of Commerce (President), Republican Central Committee and 4-H. His leadership and infectious laughter was a great contribution to any group or activity in which he was involved. He also gave freely of his time, energy and talents to raise funds and build fair booths, parade floats, Spence Park, Lollipop Land (children's parks), Glenn County fairground improvements and Haigh Field (airport) improvements. He and Yvonne have been hosts to many foreign exchange students and farmers. They helped to start and fund an American Field Service chapter in Orland so that Orland youth would have an opportunity to experience cultural exchange with other countries. Irvine learned to fly in the 1960's and loved it. For many years, he picked sweet corn for 4-H camp and flew up to Buck's Lake to deliver it. He and Yvonne, who also was a pilot, enjoyed taking flying trips around the country. He also like to dance, play bridge, and entertain. His mechanical genius was recognized and appreciated by many. He gave freely of his help to many area farmers and others to solve mechanical problems in their equipment. Many people in the community have a little device or tool which he made to help them. Irvine, Yvonne and their children were honored as Family of the Year by the Orland Historical and Cultural Society in 1980. In recognition of a lifetime of community service, a local park was named in his honor.

Steve, wrote the following to his Grandmother Grace, 25 December 1990. Christmas morning: Dear Grandma-It's Christmas Morning in Wisconsin. Quite cold but no snow. You know, I kinda miss the snow-it should be a white Christmas. Thinking back on my childhood I can't remember a Christmas without snow. It was so much fun wakening up on Christmas morning with the excitement of gifts from Santa and after opening them and eating breakfast-going out to play, with new gloves or a sled or ice skates, in the freshly fallen snow. Well, no snow this year. And any way, even if there were lots of snow, I think I've become so busy that I've forgotten how to play. Times change, I guess, and so do we. I thank GOD for my childhood and the memories of simpler times. This year Christmas has come and gone for us. We celebrate the holiday on Christmas eve. First thing, Christmas Eve morning we start preparing the food for the evening guests, then we do any last minute shopping and house cleaning. Six O Clock starts our church service, then its back home. We usually get home around 7:15pm, start getting the food out and ready to serve. The guests begin arriving at 7:30. Kathi's parents, her brothers and sisters, that live near and sometimes a friend will be here. We will eat hot beef sandwiches, potato salad, cottage cheese, vegetables, and cookies, pies and cakes as we drink some Wassail and eggnog. After we're all full we will open our presents. I guess about 9:00 or 9:30 pm. There is lots of excitement in the children, GOD bless them. After the ritual of opening the gifts we just visit. I think Christmas Eve is my favorite day of the year. One of the gifts I received this year was a video called "A Christmas Story". It takes place in the late 1940's. Reminds me so much of my youth. All in all we had a very nice Christmas. We are all doing fine. Kathi is still the Music Secretary at First Assembly of God. She has a new boss. We have almost an entire new staff at Church. Our Pastor has come from North Dakota in the summer of this year. The Music Pastor came in August and the Evangelism Pastor came in October. We just got another Pastor for the college age members. It's pretty trying going thur such a change. But, like life, change is a constant. Sometimes I would just like to stop-it, the change that is. Beth is fifteen, tenth grade already and very active in school. Both Beth and Sarah attend Christian Life School at our Church. We felt a GOD based education was one of the best gifts we could give to our children. As it turns out, its one of the best gifts we could give ourselves. Praise GOD. Last year Beth was captain of the cheerleading team, this past summer she was in a beauty pageant. It was a great education for her. She did not win, I'm glad. Its not a very Godly environment. Sarah is thirteen and in the eight grade and is captain of the cheerleading team. She plays Piano and the Violin and of course Nintendo Video games. Next year we hope to build a house on the north side of Kenosha, in the township of Sommers. I hope with all of my heart that this dream will come true. Maybe by next Christmas we'll be in a new home. Then when you come to visit we can have you over for dinner. That would be so nice. I think about you very often. I so fondly remember our visits to your home. Those memories are very precious to me, they warm my heart and bring smiles. I am so very thankful, To GOD for choosing the heritage I have. All that you have given to me, your love, thoughts, gifts, and words mean so much. I feel so fortunate to have such wonderful grandparents. And it makes me glade to know, thru our lord Jesus Christ, we will spend eternity together in heaven with our father and creator, GOD. Thank you for giving mother, your daughter, a christian up bringing. And for giving the example of a good homemaker to her. Thank you for giving your love to all of us and for sharing your life with us. Words cannot express the depth of my feelings for you. Grandmother I love you, and I thank you for being you. May GOD Bless and keep you always. Kathi and the girls send their love. Your Loving Grandson, Steve Sabby.

A BATCH OF BREAD RECIPE

Here is a most interesting letter and recipe from Mrs. Grace Hauenstein Burt:

A loaf of bread to give away. This bread has literally been a "staff of life" to me, not to eat, but to give away.

After losing my beloved husband of 60 years, I felt the need for a reason to get up in the morning. So I decided I'd bake some bread and give it away. This was partly to show my appreciation for the many kind deeds of my neighbors and friends during my time of sorrow. I also gave loaves of bread to my circle (church) members at Christmas time. These ladies decided I should be paid. So I adopted bread as my money making project for the Harvest Day contribution to our Church Circle.

As I baked this bread, I'd also give a loaf to whoever came to my door. The paper boy, garbage collectors, a friend or neighbor, or whoever rang my door bell.

While visiting some of my family I always baked bread for them with the understanding that some of it was to be given away. I would make a trip to the health food store and get a supply of whole grain flour, whole wheat, rye, soy, rice, barley, and/or buckwheat. Then I would take these with me wherever I went. Some of my friends tell me that I can't afford to do this, but my reply has been, "I can't afford not to!" The response I get from the gift of the loaf of bread is something that all the money in the world couldn't buy.

A Batch of Bread

In a small bowl, mix 2 tablespoons yeast, 1 teaspoon sugar, and 1/4 cup warm water. (Let this stand while mixing sponge.)

In a 6-quart mixing bowl, mix 6 cups warm water and flour to make a stiff batter using whole wheat, bran, wheat germ, rye, coy, rice, buckwheat, barley, corn - about a cupful of each. Mix yeast with sponge and let rise 30 minutes. In a blender, put 2 eggs and 1 cup sprouted wheat and blend. Add to sponge with 2 tablespoons salt, 1/2 cup honey, 1/4 cup oil, and enough unbleached flour to make dough. Knead 10 minutes or until it isn't sticky. Put back in bowl, cover, and let rest 15 minutes. Knead again and put in pans. Let rise 30 minutes. Bake at 375 for 45 minutes. Yields six loafs.

TEGERFELDEN, SWITZERLAND

Tegerfelden is in he Canton of Aargau, in the northern part of Switzerland. It lies in the lower Surb valley, with the old civic center of the settlement at the mouth of a small side-valley. The village is 1,193 feet above sea level, and includes 1,776 acres of land, of which 628 acres are forests. The forests extend across the summits of the hills called Acheberg to the north, while the agricultural area is mainly in the valley and on the wide plateau of the Ruckfeld, the low rolling hills on either side of the valley.

For its early history, this area has artifacts dating back to the stone ages, and evidence can be found of Roman the occupation from 58 B.C. to 401 A.D. Later still is was occupied by the Aleman, and later by the French. The village itself received the name Tegervelt in 1133, since it belonged to the ancestral castle of the Barons of Tegerfelden. Ruins of their castle still are visible today, on a promitory of the Ruckfeld, southwest of the village and across the Surb River.

In the centuries following 1133, the area came under the control of several different barons and other landowners, until 1415, when it passed over to the Swiss Confederation, whose governor in Baden now also became Tegerfelden's decisive authority.

In 1291 the alliance of all the former little states, called Switzerland, declared themselves free from their Hapsburg oppressors. They formed a very local and direct democratic government. The Swiss, by nature are fiercely independent, and only have their government serve them when they can not do something more efficiently on their own.

After declaring their freedom, the second most important historical event for Tegerfelden was the Reformation. Prior to that time, of course, the people had been of the Catholic faith, and belonged to the original parish of Zurzach. Historically, as early as 1257, mention was made of a chapel at Tegerfelden. When the village inhabitants of Tegerfelden embraced the Reformation, Zurich sent a lay minister-teacher there in 1529. Until the mid-17th century, the church building was used by both Catholics and Protestants. Between 1662 and 1666 the old chapel was demolished and a larger church erected in its place, and in 1664 the Catholics in Tegerfelden obtained a new chapel. The Reformed Church was dedicated in Tegerfelden on March 24, 1664.

The family records, which are now kept in the Tegerfelden Archives, were begun about 1824, at which time each family living in Tegerfelden was assigned a page on which their family record were written. When one of the children married, a new page was begun for them, and the number of that page was referenced on their parents' pages. This makes it quite easy to trace families since that date.

Graves are only maintained for 50 years, then exhumed and replaced with newer graves.

Wine production became predominant in Tegerfelden's economic life and caused the village to become on the most important grape growing areas in the Canton of Aargau. Today, beautiful vineyards flourish in the valley and on the hillsides surrounding the village.

Population schedules from Tegerfelden, show there were 538 inhabitants in 1780, 702 inhabitants in 1803 and 777 in 1837. Later in the 19th century their population began to decline due to economic conditions. The community today is still purely agricultural and is somewhat cut off from traffic and major industry. As in most of Switzerland, there are many independent businessmen in the village, and the large sign in the center of town lists many of them by name and occupation.

Portrait of Switzerland, published in 1844 has a description of Tegerfelden, which says it was a large parish village in a sunny, pleasant location at the southern foot of the mountains which lie between Tegerfelden and Zurzach.

This book also describes some of the history of the area, stating that the ruins of the old castle of the Baron of Degerfelden peers down from the woods over the naked crags. Conrad of Degerfelden was the private tutor of the Duke John of Swabia, and had the misfortune to be present at the death scene of the Kaiser Albrecht. He fled, his castle was demolished, his life plunged into seclusion, and he tended sheep until his death.

Brass ore was excavated in the vicinity of Tegerfelden, and also marl, which is used for improvement of the pasturelands. Marl is a crumbly deposit on soils that need lime. Digging up this material may have been the occupation of the Schifferli's who were designated as "locher", which means "digger".

Today Tegerfelden, like many Swiss villages, is a mixture of very old building and newer ones, however all are immaculately kept, and in good repair, with pretty flowers at the windows and in hanging baskets, flower pots, and in every spare space of ground.

In Tegerfelden, out in the parking lot in front of the Fire Station, here is a large wooden sign. On it appears a map of Tegerfelden and a picture of the Church, along with a short history of the village.

Surrounding the map are individual pictures of some of the businesses in the village, with the names of the owners, or tradesmen, and their addresses. Many of the surnames on this sign are the same surnames in the ancestry of our Hauenstein and Wetter families.

KANTON AARGAU

ÜBERSICHT DER GEMEINDEN

Kantonales Vermessungsamt

Tradition tells us that two Hauenstein brothers did something noble in, or about the time of the Crusades, and were awarded a large amount of land, with the duty of building a church for the people around Tegerfelden, Switzerland. In the present structure, "Reformed Church of Tegerfelden", are two family crests and five other crests which are those of villages which are now cities.

The Hauenstein crest is in the last window on the left side. The interpretation is that 'Hauen' means Hewing and 'stein' means stone. They were thus stone hewers, and the large and small crossed stone axes represent their occupation. The center is a knight's helmet which denotes the honor bestowed on these two brothers. The body of the crest is a much richer maroon than the photograph shows.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

May 31, 1990

Dear Friends:

I am delighted to send greetings to the members of the Howenstine Family as you gather for your reunion. By coming together in this way, you are setting a wonderful example for your children and for future generations.

Barbara and I know the joy a loving family brings, and we send best wishes for a memorable celebration.

Sincerely,

George Bush

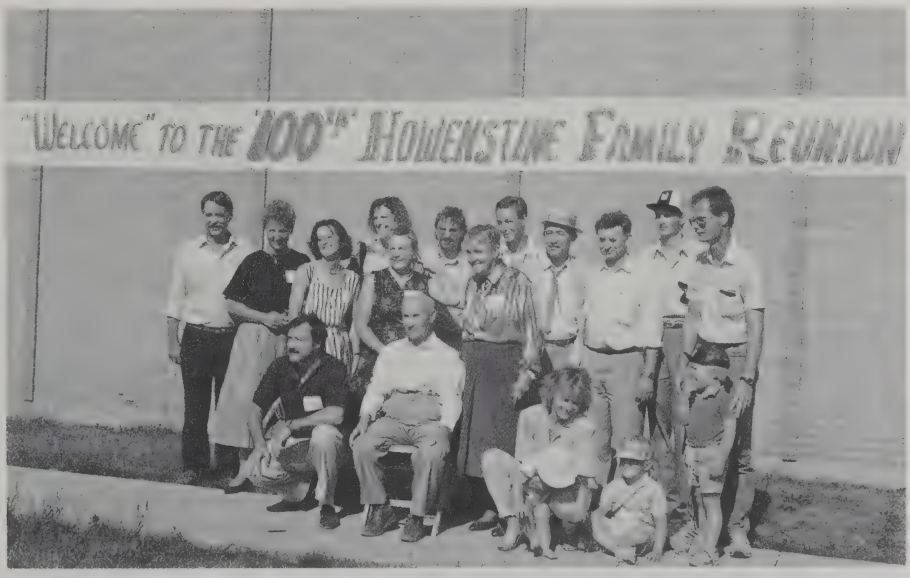
Howenstine Family Reunions

The Howenstine Reunions have been going on for 103 years in the Ohio and Indiana area. Used to be called Howenstine-Wetters Reunion. Back in 1923 a plea for financial help came to the reunion and 53 responded and sent funds totaling $104.00 to help with the needs in Switzerland. Regina Hauenstein of Switzerland had the following list of names that contributed: Mr. & Mrs. Henry Hauenstein, Martha Hauenstein, Edna Hauenstein, Lester Hauenstein, Mr. G. E. Hauenstein, William Hauenstein, Anna Hauenstein, Sarah Hauenstein, Charles G. Hauenstein, Gotteil Hauenstein (State of Washington), Emil Hauenstein (California), John Hauenstein, Sr., Lawrence Hauenstein, Anna Garber (Hauenstein), Amelia Baade (Hauenstein) Bertha Stephan (Hauenstein), Mrs. Wm. Strodel (Hauenstein), Mrs. Emma Petrie (Hauenstein), Mrs. Minnie Boerger (Hauenstein), Mrs. Sophia Deickman (Hauenstein) Logansport, Mr. Minnie Sell (Hauenstein), Mrs. Sophia Kowalk (Hauenstein) Chicago, William Wetters, Sr., William F Wetters, Edward Wetters Family, William H Wetters, Henry Wetters, Mrs. Charolote Wetters, Mrs. Emma Spath (Wetters), Mrs. A M Gross (Wetters), Mrs. Jacob Kittring (Wetters), Mrs. Sarah Micheal (Wetters), Mrs. Esther Thorpe (Wetters), John Kittring, William Kittring, Harmon Kittring, Delano Trovinger, Mr. & Mrs. John Trovinger, Daniel Micheal, William Micheal, Jr., George Hanauer, Mr. & Mrs. Hurley, George Fruch, John Gemmer, John Shanks, Mr. E Binkley, Robert Binkley, Donald Binkley, Henry Ropley, John Brown.

The 100th Howenstine Reunion brought 16 Hauenstein family members from Switzerland and this brought the largest crowd ever to the reunion. A typical promotional flyer is in the picture section of this chapter also a copy of a letter from President George Bush in regards to the memorable celebration.



The Group from Switzerland attending the 100th Anniversary

Ernst Walter Hauenstein and Fanny Regina Hauenstein of Switzerland have been a vital part of the Howenstine Family Reunion Group. They attended the 100th Howenstine Family Reunion at Washington Center in Whitley County, Indiana in June 1988. On the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of the Hauenstein Nursery in Rafz, Switzerland, August 1990, Ernst invited the USA Howenstine group and thirty four from USA participated. This was also a special event in honoring the coming 90th birthday of Ernst Hauenstein.

The following are some notes from the Burgermeisterant (Mayor) of Laufenburg, Baden: "...the town of Hauenstein which until Dec, 31 1971, was an independent town. Hauenstein was up to that point the smallest town in Germany with approx. 150 inhabitants."
The following is an excerpt from the history of Hauenstein sent by the above mayor: "Hauenstein, the smallest Germany city and very famous, looks back to the past through a moving history in the course of the centuries. For centuries Hauenstein has had civic and commercial laws which originated in the 12th century (year 1317). High above the small town of Hauenstein stands the ruins of the fortification Hauenstein, which once was the estate of the Count of Albgan and the Knigh von Hauenstein. To Luithhold von Hauenstein, the estate was named thusly in 1215, the tradition goes back after the building of the St. Joseph's Chapel. Luithhold promised to build a chapel in the honor of St. Joseph and as thanks; because his small son had (while playing) fallen off the cliff but was not hurt. To the present day the citizens of Hauenstein celebrate on St. Joseph's Day this event. Along with other big folk celebrations of the Rhine, St. Joseph's Day has retained great popularity. It is celebrated as a secular and spiritual occasion.

Still at the beginning of the 14th century Johann and Ulrich von Hauenstein had their headquarters on the estate (castle) of Hauenstein, which already at that time had been passed on the Rudolf von Habsburg. In the year 1708 the whole city burned. Already earlier the city had been destroyed by fire. In the past centuries Hauenstein was often destroyed or partly burned because all the enemy armies who came through the High Rhine Valley, also came through Hauenstein.
The old Commercial rights (or laws) which can be found also in the archives from the time of Josef II and Franz II, the city of Hauenstein has retained today.
Centuries ago, day after day, large numbers of rafters would float down the Rhine. However, many raftman sang his death song on the Rhine. Earlier the profession of carpenter bloomed in Hauenstein, along with such professions as soap making and nail making. However, most of the inhabitants were employed in fishing and shipping.
In short, the smallest of all German towns can today look back at a very exciting history.
The name Hauenstein comes from "Stein im Hau". Stein=stone Hau in this case means forest. Originally the place first appeared in 1108 as Howenstein, In 1298 as Houwenstine. In 1661 as Hawenstein.

The Hauensteiner Song

There, where the waves of the Rhine foam, and through steep cliffs roaring go, As a jewel among dark pine trees, The Black Forest Mountains look down, There lies in the valley and proud hills My homeland so lovely and beautiful. First like a jewel, mountains beautify it, Therefore, its name is "Hauenstein".* Sometimes snow covered, sometimes in bloom; O God, protect my native forest!
*(Hauenstein here is a play on words. The word "stein" is also used to mean jewel)
There interchange golden fields with green meadows by cool brooks, and deep forest rich with brooks Awaken many a beautiful legend. The thrush sings in the oak tree so the sound of the ax on a spring day, In all the little rooms of the thatched roofed houses The spinning of the wheel is loudly heard. Perhaps the world offers more beautiful things, but I like my forest best of all.
If fate leads me far away, Into foreign countries, yes over the ocean. I like to think of my faithful home, Cannot ever forget her. When my heart once seeks peace (death), Then I will steer into the fatherland. So Hauenstein, There I would like to be buried. Sometimes snow covered, sometimes in bloom, O God, protect my native forest!

Family tradition tells us that Henry Howenstine (Heinrich Hauenstein) came to America from Hanover, Germany in 1750 with his wife, Christina and their four children John, George, Elizabeth and Catherine. They arrived at the port of Philadelphia on the ship "Royal Union" and settled in Mannheim, PA., a German speaking settlement. Their two sons John and George enlisted in the service of the colonists, under General George Washington. Both were taken prisoners by the British, John died of starvation and exposure, George being an expert blacksmith was abel to shoe the horses of the British Officers, so was better fed and taken care of, which made it possible for him to survive. At the close of the war, George, marries Rosanna Aoy in 1779.

Having thoroughly researched this project in Mannheim,

Lancaster County Pennsylvania and adjoining counties we found that George did participate in the Revolutionary War and that he did marry a Rosanna Blattenberger and that George is buried in Marion, Pennsylvania and now has a new grave marker arranged by the Howenstine Reunion group in Indiana.

No record has been found that ties John, Elizabeth or Catherine to Henry Howenstine and Christina. George Howenstine is the name on the grave stone.

Burial in Clear Creek Twp., Huntington Co., IN[164]. Census: 1850[165]. The Last Words of Our Mother-When eighteen months old moved with her parents to Starke County, OH. When she was four years old her father died, leaving her mother, with four children, to battle in life as best she could. They moved to IN 15 October 1851. The way to travel was by canal, from Massillon, to Cleveland, thence by steamer to Toledo, thence by canal to Huntington, which was at that time a very small town. They first lived in a cabin on the farm of Isaac Kitt, in Clear Creek Township, Huntington County, where she resided many years. She lived two years in Huntington, two years in North Manchester and six years in Servia. HER RELIGIOUS LIFE--She was converted at the age of 17, under the labors of Rev Geo M Slusser, a Reformed minister. She united with the Reformed Church, and remained until she moved to Indiana, a few years later she became one the charter members of Bethesda United Brethren Church. She was the last one of the charter members, and for more than 66 years she had lived a Christian. HER LAST ILLNESS--On May 19, 1906, while attempting to arise from her chair she feel to the floor and sustained a broken hip. Since then she was confined to her bed and death was expected at almost any time. These months of affliction were crowned with visions and revelations. Skeptics were made to wonder, sinners tremble like leaves, and saints rejoice in the presence of the Divine Spirit. We would not exaggerate nor picture beyond measure, but give the facts as penned by those who were eye-witnesses to the scenes and heard words as they came from her own lips. -May 28: "I see Mrs. Deemer, Aunt Rebecca Miller, Allie Slusser (her son)." -May 31: "I see Rachel Sickafoose, Lydia Slusser, Benjamin Slusser. I see a host of them and Jesus is leading them." -June 1: "A ring of spirits, a group, full of faces. Irvin has come. (Irvin was her little boy who died long ago)." -June 2: "Henrietta Moslander (her daughter); Lewis Slusser (her son). I see the white horses. I am in the valley of the shadow of death, and the river is as clear as crystal. I see Aunt Charlotte and Uncle Henry Howenstine, they are coming to see me. I see Alice (her daughter-in-law). I see the Golden Gates. I see the blood dripping from the hands of Jesus." -June 21: "I see the Golden Gates. I see inside the city and the gate keeper at the gate." -June 28: "Oh such beautiful flowers, a white damsel has come out to meet me." -June 29: "A land of flowers, a country of children in the midst of white flowers," on Saturday December 22, her vision was of white vaults, white lilies and white doves. Sunday was a hallelujah day and thus it continued until she calmly passed away. The following verses were recited by her and no member of the family ever heard her say them before: I. Pisgah's top I view, canaan's grapes I taste, My Lord, who sends them to me here, will send for me at last, II. I have a God that changes not, why should I be perplexed? My God, who owns me in this world, will own me in the next, III. What have I in this barren land? My Jesus is not here, My eyes will ne'er be blest until my Jesus doth appear, IV. My Jesus' is gone up to fix a place for me, For 'tis His will where He is His followers shall be. Appropriate funeral services were conducted by Rev. J.A. Farmer, using for a text I Cor. 15:58; assisted by Rev. C.A. Mumett and Rev. J. T. Keesy.

116. Emory Howenstine[5] Slusser. Born, 12 Jun 1848, in Pike Twp., Stark Co., OH[163]. Died, 25 May 1936, in Whitley Co., IN. Burial in South

Whitley, Whitley Co., IN[385]. Census: 1850[165]. Emory, in an article dated 11 August 1930 by F. S. Bash, in the "Huntington Herald-Press," tells details of journey from Ohio to home in Huntington, County, Indiana as follows: Emory Slusser is now one of the very few remaining inhabitants, who migrated with his parents to this county, making the entire trip by water. Embarking on a canal boat in Stark County, Ohio, and proceeding to Cleveland, embarkation was there changed to a large steamer and the voyage continued to Toledo, where a canal boat was depended on for the remainder of the tedious voyage to Huntington. He is likewise one of the few old people who distinctly remember incidents that happened when they were but three years old. These facts came to me recently when I was interviewing Mr. Slusser at the home of his son, Clarence E. in Clear Creek Township.

Emory was eighty-two June 12, and was born in that part of Ohio which well nigh colonized Huntington County. As proof of his re-collections back to a tender age, he said: "I remember trying to get a drink of water at the old spring in Ohio when I was three. You see I know I was three years and four months old when we came out here in the fall of 1851. This incident at the spring happened before I left there and I remember it perfectly well. I toddled to the spring, ventured out on the board placed over the water, lost my balance, fell over in the spring, received a good ducking outside and failed to satisfy my desire for water inside. I managed to climb out alone but was thoroughly frightened and I suppose that's why I remember it so well." "I can name another time when I was three that something happened and was never forgotten. I was on the porch crying for all that was out, but what it was all about I do not know. My grandfather, Jacob Slusser, came along, picked me up and said if I would stop crying he would go to the barn and bring the colt down to the spring so it could drink. He left me on the porch and soon I saw him leading the colt with my sister Henrietta on its back. With one hand he led the colt and with the other he held my sister on so she would not tumble off. That took all the cry out of me, for that day at least."

I learned from Emory that his mother was Rosamanda Howenstine, born in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, on August 12, 1823. She married Eli Slusser in Ohio, in 1845. To them ten children were born. Emory was the oldest son and is now the only one of the five boys living. Four sisters are Clara Watson, (blind), Cordelia McClure, Ella Slusser and Minnie Bashore. The brothers were Emory, Louis, Albert, Ervin, and Shirley. Two of the brothers, Albert and Shirley, were ministers. Emory married Alice Sickafoose on January 2, 1876. The wife's death occurred in 1905. They were the parents of four children, Lulu Maud, who married George S. Smith and moved to California. Two years ago, while her father was paying her a visit, she was found dead in bed and Mr. Slusser brought the body back to Indiana for burial at South Whitley. Emory's daughter, Alma Doll, now Mrs. Charles Wendel, and the son Alvin, were twins. Alvin lives in Wabash County, while Clarence and family are in Clear Creek Township where this interview took place.

"When we moved out here in 1851, on the barge between Toledo and Huntington there was a colored family on the boat. To us they were a curiosity. Colored people in the south at that time were slaves and where we came from in Ohio the sentiment was bitter against slavery. A little pickaninny girl in that family was just my age and we played together on the boat. My mother told me afterward that the little colored girl was dressed neatly and was so cute that she attracted much attention. My mother also stated that I not only played with her but fairly idolized her to the extent of hugging and kissing her and loving her with all the devotion possible for a three-year old."

"A few years ago, when I was spending the winter in Florida," explained Mr. Slusser, "I attended a service held by colored people and the minister called on me to say something. I gave a little talk and among other things I mentioned was the incident of seeing the colored family on the canal boat when I was an infant, and at that time the race was still in bondage. I told them that was the reason I voted for Abraham Lincoln to help get them their freedom, but I feared they were still under more or less bondage. Next day I met the pastor on the street and he said his people were helped by my talk."

Refers to alleged mermaids: "One of the things my mother related to me concerning our voyage on the lake was that a sailor on the steamer showed some kind of a creature caught in the lake which he said was a mermaid. It seemed to be part fish and part human, at least having a head like a child. She did didn't see enough to be able to tell much about it but the incident created a good deal of excitement and argument on the boat. They say there is no such thing as a mermaid, that it is only known in mythology, but really, now, without joking, I saw in a museum in California a little skeleton that had a human skull and the lower part of the body was a fish. I examined it to see if it had been joined together but was unable to find anything that would expose the fraud if such it was. It seemed genuine enough as far as external appearance was concerned. The showman declared it was aa mermaid.

"After coming out here we first lived in Isaac Kitt's cabin on what is now the Garber farm a couple of miles west of Goblesville," the aged Mr. Slusser went on. "My grandfather Jacob Sluser, once owned four 80's in Warren Township out of which his sons George, Ben and Dan had their pick, my father Eli, taking what was left, which was the eighty right south of Makin. His land extended right up to the Makin church or what was once called the Slusser church. It was on that farm that I grew to manhood."

Emory went on to state that when he finally bought land he borrowed money from a rich land owner well known throughout that part of the county. He paid him ten per cent interest and if not paid on the day it was due, then the rate was eleven per cent. The old money shark was said to be hard boiled, very close, gruff, tyrannical and hardheaded. Everybody had to knuckle to his supreme will. Even his wife had a hard lot in life and feared him. But when the faithful number one died and he married his second wife he found his match. The new wife looked meek and serene enough, but when thoroughly stirred and riled up, she had a temper like a buzz-saw. Gave husband a surprise: The story goes that not long after the stern man of affairs was married to his second wife, the ultimatum came unexpectedly. She was coming in from milking and happened to meet the prototype of Simon Lagree, of Uncle Tom's Cabin, both coming face to face in the footpath. The czar husband criticized the new wife severely about some trivial matter of commission or omission and with-out delay or a single word of warning, the meek-eyed but resolute wife hauled off with her milk bucket and gave the old grouch a tremendous stunning slam in the face that was the surprise of his life. The heavy pail left its imprint upon the nose and other features, while the warm milk almost took away his breath. Then the new wife lit into him with such vigorous and caustic words as to render him dumb and speechless. He was made to realize that if he wanted to remain alive it would well to change his course and learn at once to treat his wife with courtesy and respect. It is said no one ever heard of him criticizing his wife a second time. Once was enough. He was taught the lesson he needed.

Mr. Slusser was asked to give his recollections about ghost stories of the old days. At first he hesitated, then said: "Oh, I never took such stock in such things and believed that the mission of mediums and spiritual rapping were of the devil, but of course I didn't pretend to know anything about it. I did try to make some investigations at one time but did not prove anything. I remember when my parents told about going to a camp meeting with George Lininger and wife and on the way home turned off on a by-road in the woods, just as the sun was going down a white object in human form appeared to them, approaching nearer and nearer to the wagon until my mother said she could have reached out and touched it with her hand. Even the horses saw it and were frightened. My little sister Etta saw it and slapping her hand down on her mother's knee, asked what it was. When the wagon came to the end of the woods, the white figure vanished as mysteriously as it came.

Happenings in Moese House: "While we are talking on matters of this kind," commented Emory, "I heard things myself that I could never explain. Wash Sickafoose was a minister, a brother of my wife. He and his wife were living in the George Moese house in our neighborhood. At that time I was working at the carpenter trade and we laid off on Saturday afternoon. I stopped at Wash's to make a brief visit. They invited me to stay over night but hinted that if I did so I might be disturbed on account of queer noises in the house. I said if there was anything of that kind going on I would stay sure for I wanted to hear it for myself. I woke up in the night and right back of my bed I heard a noise that made the cold chills run up and down my spinal column. It sounded like a broomstick rolling down over the roof but was near my bed. I couldn't understand it. The report spread all over the country and people came to stay all night just to hear it. Some had to go away without hearing anything, for it did not perform every night. My father was one who was there and heard it.

"By and by Alfred Slusser, George Altman and I decided to make some investigations. In the meantime George received instructions from somebody who told him to repeat certain words when he heard the broomstick seance taking place. He committed the words to memory so he could repeat them glibly on short notice. We all three slept in one bed. George kept saying over the words. We waited a long time and became sleepy. Then all at once our hair fairly must have stood on end for the broomstick was rolling like fury. I noticed George wasn't saying a blooming word. Alf and I told him to cut loose and get in his word right away, but he was too scared to utter a sound. All he could do was to grunt feebly. He sure was knocked out in the first round. His words were either clean forgotten or else he was afraid to open his head. The strange sounds were kept up in that house for three or four months, then ceased but no one ever solved the mystery."

Emory made Cuban Trip: There are few old men on rural district who have traveled more extensively than has Emory Slusser. He can give a full account of a trip to Cuba in company with Orlando Crider about the year 1907. He says the route was by rail to New York, thence by ocean steamer to Havana. Much of the interior country was visited with a view of making investments in land. He was there a couple of months and contracted for 160 acres of timberland, the trees including rosewood, mahogany and a number of other varieties. An interesting fact he relates is a surprise that came to him in the refunding of fifty dollars he paid down at the time the land contract was signed. It seems the money was deposited in a Cuban bank to seal the contract, the idea being to come home, consult his family, await the proceedings for furnishing title, etc., then remit the remainder of the price agreed upon. In the meantime his family doubted the outcome of the purchase, believing the timber would not be accessible to market for a long time on account of its remoteness from railroads or other means of transportation. There were also rumors of risk to take in securing good title so that Mr Slusser decided to forfeit the fifty dollars of earnest money and allow the contract to become void by limitation. Time went on and Emory had almost forgotten his foreign land deal. When seven years had elapsed, a letter came to him from a bank in Cuba and on account of lacking the proper address passed through extraordinary postal channels, coming first to Indianapolis, since it was known in Cuba as Indiana's Capital. The wonder is it ever reached the hands of the right recipient; but it actually found Emory Slusser. It was notice to him that he had credit of fifty dollars and accrued interest lying in the Cuban bank and asked what disposition he wished to make of it. One could have knocked Mr. Slusser down with a feather, so dazed was he with surprise. He replied asking that the principal and interest be forwarded to him by mail, giving correct post office address, etc. In due time a check for the full amount was received and the transaction closed. How it happened the money was saved for him has always been a puzzle and he is unable to explain it to this day.

Yes Emory Slusser has grown old. Thus far his identity has been well preserved among the generations in which he has spent so much of his life. The sight in one eye has failed, but with glasses and a sunglass he is able to read fairly well. Much of his reading is from the Biblical texts in which he is interested in confirming his belief, that the African Negro sprang from the fourth son of Ham.

132. James[5] Steinmetz. Born, 1873[417]. Resided, 1936. James ran a general store at Howenstine, Ohio. He was Postmaster, Freight Agent (B&O RR was just across the bridge from his store) he sold shoes and boots (the area was honeycombed with mines); whiskey by the glass; would often have thousands of dollars on hand for cashing miner's checks; was a noted mathematician and penman. He bought out the Steinmetz heirs and farmed the rest of his life, renting the store out. Ruth his daughter shares this with us: The old steam engine with thresher would visit all surrounding farms once a year--with celebrated threshers' meals. Then the sheepshearers--100 head of sheep. I loved to go to Canton with my Dad, on the bus: he knew practically everyone on the street. He raised road horses:never beaten in the show ring at Fairs; his colts were in demand. Then he had two mules which won every race entered. He acquired the first Minister for Howenstine, thereby organizing the first Church here. 179. Myrtus Ammon[6] Howenstine ("Doc" Jacob D, 71). Born, 2 Nov 1880[520]. Died, 3 Jul 1954[521]. Burial in Goblesville, IN[361]. The Howenstine homestead where Myrtus was born is located in Section Ten, Clear Creek Township, Huntington County, Indiana. Kyle Myers great-grandson of Bertha (Howenstine) Myers sister of Myrtus now resides on the land. The barn which was in good condition was set afire in about 1960 by some children playing with matches in the hay mow. A short time after the death of Bertha Myers in 1965 the old house was torn down. The original house was back half a mile from the road near the creek. When Myrtus was in the eighth grade he quit school in order to stay home and do the farming because his father Jacob "Doc" lost his eyesight. This was about twelve years before his death. After the passing away of Jacob, Amanda moved into Huntington and lived on Market Street until she died. Emery Wade, and his sister Bertha assisted Myrtus in most of the farm work, while Bert and Fairie helped more at the house and chores. Myrtus said that as kids his brothers Wade, Berdall and their friends used to ice skate on the creek for miles on a Sunday afternoon when it was frozen over during the winter. If some one broke through the ice they would crawl out and continue on skating. Bob-sledding was another fun-time event. Myrtus and his brothers Wade and Bert used to sleep in the hay-mow during the summer in hammock's. Others in the area knew about the hammocks and on some occasions if it was late at night friends would stop, crawl into a hammock and sleep till morning. Only when it was daylight did they know who had stopped for the night. As a boy as well as in manhood Myrtus liked to hunt rabbits and squirrel which were used for food. The children of Jacob and Amanda considered their parents rather strict. But they did endeavor to teach them honesty, truthfulness, trust and respect for other people. These fine virtues were passed on to their children. Myrtus thought that his mother was a little unfair at times in her dealings with him and his brother Berdall or Bert as he was more often called. It had to do with the occasions when the boys were permitted to go into town and their mother Amanda would give them an equal share of money to spend. Myrtus being more frugal than his brother Bert would not spend all of the money that was given to him. If Bert found out about it he would go to his mother and tell her that Myrtus had some money left, and then she would make Myrtus divide it with Bert. Most of Myrtus younger days were spent in farming and the winter time was spent cutting and hauling logs to the sawmill in Goblesville. He did some trapping of animals and sold the pelts for extra money. In his socializing Myrtus met Addie May Crull who had attended school in Warren Township which is adjacent to Clear Creek Township. At that time she was living at Finkenbinder's Corner which is the jog in the road on Highway #5. The curve is still there but the name Finkenbinder is not known to many of the younger generation. On October 1, 1908 Addie May and Myrtus were united in marriage by Reverend J. W. Eby. In the following years while still residing in Clear Creek Township four children were born to Myrtus and Addie. Three daughters, Miriam Delight, Chella A., Pauline Eloise and a son Lyle Twain. Lyle Twain born on January 3, 1913, died on August 5 of the same year. He was diagnosed as having what was then called consumption or tuberculosis of the lungs. In the early 1920's Myrtus and Addie purchased a 40 acre farm in Washington Township, Whitley County. The farm was located just two tenths of a mile west of the Washington Center School and the United Brethren Church. It was very convenient location for attending both school and church where they faithfully attended on a weekly basis. Myrtus held various offices in both the church and Sunday School. Addie was always active in the Ladies Aid Society. Quilting was always one of the ways that the Ladies Aid raised money for various projects. The house at Washington Center did not have any modern facilities during the twenty years that the family lived there. One electric light company stopped their light lines at Washington Center. Another electrical company stopped theirs about one half a mile west of the farm. The cost for extending either companies lines were too prohibitive at that particular time. So the Howenstine family relied on coal, kerosene and later a gasoline motor to pump water for the livestock. Horses or mules always provided the power for farming until Myrtus purchased a 1913 Case tractor with the motor setting cross ways. Later a Fordson tractor replaced the Case for power. After a few years at Washington Center another son Glen Eugene was born on September 29, 1924 at 10:00 AM on Monday which was usually considered the weekly wash day. It was probably one day Addie didn't get the washing done. In a few more years the depression set in and life became more difficult. Myrtus not only farmed the 40 acres, milked cows, raised chickens and hogs, but also dug open wells for water. He had purchased a well-machine from a manufacturer in the state of Illinois in order to make some extra income to raise his family and pay for the farm. This well-drilling machine was quite different from today's modern machines. It had an eight foot square platform with 4 posts running from each corner, coming together to form a tower. The platform had a hole in the center big enough for a two foot diameter auger to go thru. On top of the auger a ten foot well auger rod was placed and secured to the platform by a cross-bar. The auger was then let down thru the hole with a cable that ran thru a pulley at the top of the tower. The whole platform, tower and gears were mounted on a huge cog wheel so that they could revolve while the chassis stood still. A horse or mule provided the power by walking round and round in a circle as the auger was slowly being lowered into the ground. The average well was about eighteen to twenty two feet deep at a level where usually a vein of gravel with water in it was struck. On rare occasions it was necessary to go to a depth of thirty to forty feet. After water was found then a eighteen inch sewer tile was lowered into the twenty four inch hole. Myrtus received a dollar a foot if he struck water. If no water was found he did not charge even though it may have cost several days of labor. Along with farming and well-drilling Myrtus acquired the job of operating a county road-grader to help supplement his income for the family. Farms were lost during the depression, but Myrtus and Addie made every penny count. It was during these times that candy bars were a nickel, the new drink "Pepsi-Cola" a dime and ice cream 15 cents a pint. Every two weeks when the cream check came, (later it was the milk check), a trip was made into town to buy the necessities of life that could not be purchased from Harry Pence, on his weekly rounds as a huckster. Sometimes there was a few extra pennies available to buy suckers for the kids. These were what was called the "lean times", but no one suffered for the real necessities of life. On December 7, 1941 Pearl Harbor was attacked. Son Glen the only one left at home graduated in the Spring of 1942 and was inducted into the army in July 1943. Fairie Brown, sister of Myrtus died in July of the same year. Arrangements were made to buy her 57 acre farm in Clear Creek Township and move back to Huntington County, only three-fourths of a mile from where Myrtus was born and raised. This was the first time in thirty six years of marriage that they had the luxury of electricity. But is wasn't until 1947 that running water was installed in the home. Addie May, Myrtus wife had many sick moments in her latter years of life. In early April 1948 she was taken to the Parkview Memorial Hospital, where she was diagnosed as having incurable cancer. She was returned home and remained bedfast until her death on June 15 of 1948. Myrtus said, "We were just getting to the place where we could enjoy some of the good things of life and Addie had to die. In 1952 Myrtus married Pearl V. Heinley from the Columbia City area. Then on July 5, 1954 Myrtus passed on to be with the Lord and hist first wife Addie May (Crull) Howenstine. He died of cardiac decompensation in the Huntington County Memorial Hospital and was buried in the "Beech Grove Cemetery" in Clear Creek Township of Huntington County, Indiana. Rev. Dwight McClure a former pastor at the Washington Center United Brethren performed the service. In the settlement of the Howenstine estate the three daughters, Miriam Delight Clark, Chella A. Juillerat and Pauline Eloise Stanley sold their share to their brother Glen who still resides on the home place. Myrtus and Addie never accumulated alot of money to be left to their family. But they did leave a rich legacy of honesty, truthfulness, justice, a sense of fairness and a need to worship GOD the source of such rich virtues. These are the things that really count because they are lasting, eternal and pleasing to GOD. This author knew Myrtus Ammon and his wife very well because they were my father and mother and I was their son.

Lelia's mother said it snowed the day she was born. Her parents lived in the front of half of Grandpa Emory Howenstine Slusser's farm house. Uncle Alvin and Aunt Demma (Snapp) Slusser lived in the other half of the house. Grandpa had one large bedroom at the end of the hall upstairs. This farm was in Warren Township, Huntington County, IN. I have fond memories of my early childhood here on this farm. Grandpa Slusser and I would go to his woods on the farm to pick black wild raspberries and blackberries, morel (sponge) mushrooms, and the fall of the year to get black walnuts, butternuts and hickory nuts. It was a treat to go in Grandpa's bedroom for he had a big dresser that was made by a relative given as a wedding gift, and he had a hand made stand given as a wedding gift. It still has the first white casters on it to this day. The stand is in my living room. It is 115 years old. Grandpa Emory Howenstine Slusser and Grandma Alice (Sickafooss) Slusser had a Church Wedding and were married at Centenary Church, Whitley County, IN. Grandpa gave me the dark red plush ring box that Grandma's wedding ring came in. I did not know Grandma Alice for she died before I was born. We were members of the Bethesda United Brethren Church. Here I made friends with the children my age. My father, Clarence Earl Slusser drove a white horse harnessed to a beautiful storm king buggy. This had three glass windows in it. In the winter Mother, Minnie, would heat what was called a soapstone on the top of the cook stove, wrap the stone in newspaper and put it on the buggy floor. This is how you kept your feet warm. Then we covered our feet and lap with a blanket, called buggy robe and tucked in around our feet and legs. It took a whole day to go to Huntington to shop and back home the same day. Very few cars were on the road, but I do remember a sign on Clear Creek hill that read "Blow your Horn." My father always made a noise like he was blowing a horn, would press at a certain place on the side of the buggy. It is now state road 5. You cross a bridge and then curve around this hill. Back then it looked like a big hill to me for the ground was flat where we lived. Once in town the horse was in a livery barn. It stood where the Y' is today. The horse was unhitched put in a stall and tied and cared for while you shopped. My mother left me with her sister in town unless she needed to buy me something that I needed to try on. Grandfather sold his farm and my parents moved to a farm they bought in Clear Creek Township, Huntington Co., IN. Here I graduated from Clear Creek High School, 18 April 1929. I was graduated from Warner Beauty College in Fort Wayne, IN. Was a beauty operator and decided to go to Manchester College. Was graduated with AB degree, in 1934, and taught school at Markle, IN for two years. Was a 4-H leader in Clear Creek township. Women married teachers were not hired giving the single women a chance to teach. George and I married while he was in dental school at Iowa City, IA. We worked at the University to help pay for his schooling and to live there. I worked at the University of Iowa Childrens Hospital-Nutrition Department. After George became a dentist his first office was at Akron, IN and I helped him in the office. World War II came and the fall of 1942 we stored our belongings. George was a dentist in the Army for four years. I was with him most of the time. We lived at Mineral Wells, TX, in CA for a short time, and DeRidder, TX. Here I had a civil service job at Camp Polk, LA. The first woman to replace soldier workers in medical supply warehouse. Here I also taught the WAC'S the medical supply warehouse work. After George was honorably discharged we decided to live in Fort Wayne, IN. He had his own office up over a drugstore and later to a dwelling house that was made into his office. Here I was busy with different church and sunday school jobs at our South Wayne United Methodist Church. I was a Girl Scout Leader at South Wayne Grade School.

U. R. HOWENSTINE DIED IN WISCONSIN

U. R. Howenstine, one of the older business men of North Manchester, died about midnight Tuesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Hornaday at Superior, Wisconsin His death came as a surprise to friends here, many of whom did not know of his extreme serious condition. He had been in failing health for some time from hardening of the arteries and heart trouble, and had gone to Wisconsin the first of August. His daughter, Mrs. Owen Smith was there at the time of his death and a son, G. C. Howenstine of Superior, was also there.

The body will arrive here Thursday afternoon and will be taken to the home of Owen Smith. No funeral arrangements have been made other than it will likely be at the Methodist church.

Mr. Howenstine was born in Ohio about 73 years ago. He came to this locality at an early age and for many years has been the active head of the North Manchester Marble company. He married Miss Emma Tribet who preceded him in death a little over a year ago Two sons are living, Albert Howenstine of this city, G. C. Howenstine of Superior, Wisconsin, and two daughters, Mrs. Owen Smith of this city and Mrs. A. T. Hornaday of Superior.

The land where Springfield, at the Big Spring, stands, was patented to William McCracken and Samuel Finley at an early date, and the town was laid out probably as early as 1790. After building the first mill, Mr. McCracken sold out in 1809 to Robert Peebles. The tract consisted of 130 acres "deeded in fee except the part on which Springfield stands, for which the said Robert Peebles received quit rents." These quit rents were extinguished only about thirty years ago.(1856). At one time, before the turnpike was constructed, Springfield was a more important place, and where more business was transacted than at the present, there being in operation a flour mill, three taverns, four distillers, two stores, and the usual number of mechanic shops. The first road laid out westward toward the Potomac crossed here at the Big Spring. There is now in the town two schools and a church belonging to the United Brethren. The situation is romantic, and the town has probably about 200 inhabitants.

The western part of the land on which Plainfield stands was patented to Jacob Alter in 1793, the eastern, at an earlier date, to Richard Peters, the secretary, under the Provincial Government, in the land office in Philadelphia. In Alter's patent the tract he purchased was called Plainfield. In 1794 forty three acres of this tract was sold to Frederick Rhoadacher, who seems to have kept a hotel there, and to have made the first improvements. It was not, however, until 1812 that several parties viz: Jacob Weigel, blacksmith; Henry Weigel, wagon maker, John Howenstein, cooper, and probably some others purchased lots from the owners and began to ply their respective trades. The place was then, or afterward, known as "Smoketown," because the blacksmiths, manufacturing their own charcoal, kept the atmosphere surcharged with smoke, the name is used as late as 1845, when the town consisted "of a few houses." When a postoffice was established at Plainfield its original name was restored.

Mount Rock, on a slight eminence, evidently so called from the large lime stone rocks which protrude from the surrounding hills, is beautifully situated, seven miles west of Carlisle, near a large spring which issues from a limestone rock, the water from which, after flowing for a short distance, sinks again into the earth, and passing under a hill, re appears on the north side , and pursues the course to the Conedogwinit.

The postoffices in the townships are Plainfield, Big Spring, Greason, Kerrsville and Mount Rock. The Cumberland Valley Railroad passes from east to west through the township, almost dividing it in two.

Switzerland

In giving a short history of the Hauenstein-Wetters family, we will first briefly review a few facts about Switzerland, their native country.

The small Republic of Switzerland is a highland, and lies in the south central part of Europe, surrounded by France, Italy, Austria, and Germany. For many years these countries would have been only too glad to annex this little republic, but the Swiss people who realize the conditions surrounding them were always alert to the occasion. This was again proven in the late world war when they were compelled to enlist every available youngman, stationing them around the border of their country to protect their neutrality. On account of the cool climate the Swiss people are a very thrifty nation, and have cattle grazing as their common occupation. Their dairy products are known throughout the world. They also manufacture cotton cloth and silks, and they excel in fine laces and embroideries. Their watches and clocks have a world wide reputation. Switzerland is also famous for the beauty and grandeur of its lakes and mountain scenery, being annually visited by thousands of tourists from all parts of the globe. It is from this country that our for-fathers came from.

3. Kungold[2] Hauenstein (Rudoff, 1). Born, 18 Apr 1817, in Switzerland. Died, 24 Dec 1894, in Chester Twp., Wabash Co., IN[3]. Burial: 26 Dec 1894, in German Lutheran, Church[4]. Kungold in 1843 came to Huntington County, Indiana and lived there for 51 years. She was a member of the German Lutheran Church near Bippus, she had been a member of the German Lutheran Church for 62 years. Kungold and her husband's home was on the edge of the big bear-swamp west of West Point, now where Bippus is located. From Fort Wayne they came to Huntington, Indiana on the canal and stopped temporarily at Jacob Weber's hotel, which stood near the dock. Only two cabins were passed when conveyed along the blazed trail. One of these was the Henry Kunce place and the other was owned by people by the name of Kyser. They stayed with a family named Dailey until a cabin could be built. Kunglod had a padded ring she brought from Switzerland to carry things on your head. The padded ring fit down over the head and made a flat platform on which a bucket could be balanced and carried successfully, here in Warren Township like she had done in Switzerland. During a dry spell she had to carry water from a shallow well down in the woods. One day with the bucket of water on her head a large Indian confronted her. She could not understand his jabberings and finally found he wanted a drink from the bucket which she gladly gave to him, the Indian examined the strange head piece and went on his way. Such were the shocks that occasionally came to mothers on the pioneer days.

Census: 1860[22]. Census: 1880[23]. Occupation: Farmer Miller. Friedrich Wilhelm left Switzerland 21 March 1849 at the age of 21 for North America and arrived in New York 2 May 1849. There he spent several months with relatives before leaving for California where he hoped to join in the famed gold rush. He worked his way on a vessel that was compelled to sail around the southern tip of South America to reach the west coast. The trip included many hardships and required 364 days before reaching its destination. Mr. Hauenstein went to work in a gold mine, saved his earnings, and later went into the clothing business with a partner who later swindled him out of all his savings. After five years in California, he boarded a vessel that took him to the present site of the Panama Canal. There he journeyed by land to the Atlantic coast, a distance of about 50 miles, where he boarded a ship to New York. Soon after arriving there, he came to Indiana and established residence north of town where he built the mill. Speaking of its construction Mr. Hauenstein said: "I studied it all our myself. There was no one to show me. Of course I had seen cider mills and wine presses in Switzerland when a young man. The one thing that puzzled me most was how to make the big wooden screw that raised and lowered the heavy beam. "How to make the large threads on the screw so they would be true and regular and match threads on a block they had to pass through was more than I could tell. But don't you know, one night I dreamed how to do it. It was a success and worked like a charm. People came for miles to get the pattern to build one just like mine. Loads of apples came from all direction." Describing the original operation of the immense press, the present owner, Laurence Hauenstein, said the fruit would be brought to the mill on horse-drawn wagons. Sometimes 15 to 20 wagons would be waiting in line, he said. The apples were dumped into a hopper, and with the aid of a wooden plunger were forced through an 18 by 12 inch cylinder grinder covered with iron nails which would shred the fruit. From the grinder the apple pulp would pass into a tank where it was removed by a scoop shovel and put into a large box with openings. Boards were placed over the pulp up to a position where they were flush with the raised end of the heavy beam. With this done, five or six men then lowered the beam by rotating the screw, expelling juice from the apples. The "Heavy beam" mentioned is a solid piece of white oak 30 feet long, 29 inches in depth and 24 inches wide. The screw is 12 feet high with a diameter of 11 inches, with four threads to the foot. The screw is of oak and was made by Mr. Hauenstein with a chisel and mallet. This material was gleaned from a article in the Huntington Herald-Press 7 November 1948, by a Mr. Bash.

64. John Frederick Conrad[4] Hauenstein (Charles G, 23). Born, 26 Apr

1884, in Logansport, IN[60]. Died, 10 May 1940, in Huntington Co., IN[96]. Burial in Pilgrim's Rest, Huntington, IN. Census: 1900[58]. His name was "John Fredrick Conrad Hauenstein." John (after his grandfather, the first immigrant from Switzerland;) Fredrick (after his mothers brother, Fredrick Horstman;) and Conrad after his father's sister's husband, Conrad Baade- who courted Amalie and didn't get her home before dark. John,(our dad) was the eldest of six children (two of them died very young) had the responsibility of carrying on the farm work while his father "Charles" was still farming and after his father retired. John had quite a sense of humor, but also was quite a tease. He was the opposite of his father "Charles" who was very serious, very particular, and always down to business-no foolishness. John's lack of seriousness (while young) got him into trouble many times. A cousin, Russell Jennings who was of the same temperament as John, lived with them. The two got into a lot of mischief and trouble. John's two sisters were Esther and Marie. Russell's two sisters were Helen and Nellie (who also lived with the Hauenstein's. The boys made a man dummy. At night they'd put him up to the girls bedroom window (at the big brick house, and scared the wits out of the girls. Now there was no electricity on the farm, so it was really dark at night. Now this happened often (scaring the girls). They'd hide the dummy in the hay mow during the day, and one day their dad "Charles" found it and that ended their fun. Dad teased his sister a lot. Esther could take it good-naturedly, but Marie would get extremely upset, and that's what he wanted. This was carried on later in life. Dad was 29 years old when he married, and Mon was 26. They met mostly at the Lutheran Church which was the center for the German immigrants. Then there is a funny story that when Mom's family was leaving church in a sleigh pulled by horses, that Mom fell out in the snow. Mom's sister, Aunt Margaret said, " Oh you just did that so Johnny Hauenstein would notice you; also our Mom was sort of a professional seamstress. She worked for Aunt Carrie Strodel, sister of our grandpa "Charles", so he could have met or had contact with Mom that way. Mom and Dad married in November of 1913, and moved into the smaller brick house on the 55 acres. Here the four of us were born. Grandpa retired sometime after that, and Dad did all the farming, his 55 acres, and Grandpa's 80 some acres. Dad wanted to use fertilizer on the crops, and Grandpa thought that was not necessary. Dad said, " All you raise is chicken feed without it." But I guess Dad was in control. When I was a little kid, not in school yet, they had planted corn, and it had come up a few inches, and I went out in the field and pulled some of it up and came in and told my Dad that his corn was all rotting. Grandpa Hauenstein was upset about that. My Dad laughed and said, "Oh don't worry about a few grains of corn." Dad always found work for us "kids" to keep us out of trouble. He had a barn full of cows to be milked by hand, then the milk run through the DeLaval separator (turned by hand) a no. 12 at first, then we graduated to a no. 16. We thought we were somebody with a DeLaval no. 16. The work went a little faster that way. Mom churned the cream, and had a butter route in Huntington. Dad had to drive the route with her (she did not drive) every Tuesday and Friday, in the winter during the afternoon, and summer at night. The kids stayed home (if not in school) and fought and worked, or stayed with our Grandma Hauenstein in the evening. They usually brought home an Eskimo pie, for each of us, which was a bar of ice cream coated with chocolate. It was very good and

cost 5 cents. Yes, we milked a lot of cows, and Dad was first up in the morning and after that it was impossible to sleep much, as when he'd build the fires in the kitchen range and the living room heater, he'd rattle the stove lids, the he'd go outdoors and call the dog, then call the cows and send the dog to get them. Even the hired hand complained that he couldn't sleep after Dad got up. He raised a lot of potatoes and sold them. They were planted on Saturday when the kids were there to help. They were dug or harvested on Saturday too, when the kids were not in school. We thought this was hard work, and it was. We had no electricity or running water while growing up. We thought we were "somebody" later-when we moved into the big brick house and had running water and a bathroom, and later electricity. In the summer, if we had the hay in the hay mow, and sometimes the wheat shocked, if it was ripe enough, we'd get to go to the 4th of July picnic at Fort Wayne on the Concordia College grounds. Here we could have all the ice-cream we could eat, also pop and hot-dogs. Aunt Esther Meyer lived in Fort Wayne. Mom and Dad knew many people there and they enjoyed the picnic as much as the kids. Dad was not legislative, but we had to do what we were told; and there was no sassing or we'd get our mouth slapped. He farmed with horses, but the farm tractors were coming into being, and I think he had several tractors later. Grandpa Hauenstein would sit on the front porch at the big brick house, and in the morning he'd say, "I thought that tractor would never start." Through the years, Dad gained too much weight, especially for his build. He was tall. He had a good appetite and enjoyed food, especially home-made bread, meat and potatoes. He'd tell Mom she didn't need to plant a garden for him, as that stuff was just for cows. In later years he was on a strict diet and had to eat a lot of vegetables and the like. He lost o lot of weight. Adolph, being the oldest boy in our family took over the farming on the home place. Adolph said that Grandpa Hauenstein would bring-out the worst rusted old corn plow and he plowed corn with the horses, and when he plowed enough to have the rust off & loosened and oiled, he'd bring out another one about like it. Guess Grandpa believed in wearing our the old first and the hardest way was best. As mentioned before, Dad was too over-weight to long and developed heart trouble which seems to run in the Hauenstein family. Though we did not know it. At that time in life, if you were fat, you were healthy. You didn't diet to lose weight, and cholesterol was unheard of. Dad suffered a fatal heart attack when he was only 56 years old- on May 10, 1940. About 7:30 am he was sitting in the rocking chair by the kitchen range, when he keeled over, and died about two hours later. It was unexpected, but expected too, as he was not well for sometime. As always, it was a shock to the family. Adolph was 26, I was 23, and Bob and Raymond were 18 years old. (These ages are approximate). In all, we (the family) had a good life. Dad loved his family. All of us ere taught to work and take life in stride. We had what we needed; food and clothes, a church, a social life, many good friendships; and were able to go through the great depression not going bankrupt or losing the farm. chicken feed

Robert Lacey Jr. and his daughter Roberta Jean admire the oaken press. Robert is the great-grandson of William Hauenstein, who built the press out of hand-hewn timbers in 1864.

Built by William Henry Hauenstein in 1883, Named for his son, Fritz, later owned by Capt. Robert M. Marshall

FIRST GENERATION

1. William[1] Hauenstein. Born, 15 Feb 1822, in Rhine, Bavaria, Germany[1]. Died, 17 Nov 1915, in Tuscumbia, MO[2]. Burial in Tuscumbia Cem., Miller Co., MO. William was a highly educated man of Rohr, Germany, speaking French fluently, and one time was a state official but highly disapproved of the way the German Gov't was operating, and as a result he brought his family in 1852 to seek a freer land and gov't. The family landed in New York,, where they lived two years, then went to the river raisin country of the west end of Lake Erie, Michigan.

In 1859 the family moved to Booneville, MO traveling by boat from St. Louis, living here a short time, they moved to California, MO and engaged in mercantile business.

The year of 1865 the family moved to Tuscumbia, MO. Mr. Hauenstein spent the remaining years of his life here. Following Mrs. Hauensteins death in 1988 he lived in the home of his daughter and husband, Robert M. Marshall.

Three children died in infancy.

He married Maria Elizabeth Stiegleman, 1845, in Germany[3]. Born, 27 Feb 1816, in Rhine Country, Germany. Died, 28 Apr 1888, in Tuscumbia, MO. Burial in Tuscumbia Cem., Tuscumbia, MO. Children:

2 i. William Henry[2] Hauenstein.
3 ii. Philip Ferdinand Hauenstein.
4 iii. George T Hauenstein.
iv. Emma A Hauenstein. Born, 1860, in Tuscumbia, MO[4]. Died, 1950, in Tuscumbia, MO[4]. Burial in Tuscumbia, MO[5]. She married Robert M Marshall, son of David Marshall and Mary ( ).

SECOND GENERATION

2. William Henry[2] Hauenstein (William, 1). Born, 12 May 1846, in Bavaria, Germany. Died, 1936, in Tuscumbia, MO[4]. Burial in Tuscumbia Cem., Tuscumbia, MO[6]. Immigration: 1852[7]. William Henry received his education at Detroit, Michigan and Toledo, Ohio, where he was a fairly good student, he was very much interested in boats.

While the family was in California, Missouri, the Civil War was raging, although the family was bitterly apposed to war, they felt the issue was a hand and must be met. William Henry at the age of eighteen joined the Union Army being assigned to the second Missouri Artillery, among many other engagements, he was in the battle of the Big Blue, near Kansas City and another battle at Mine Creek, near Fort Scot, Kansas. After receiving an honorable discharge he returned to his business, but not being satisfied, he finally drifted to river work, where he eventually became a prominent boatman on the Osage River at Tuscumbia, also the Missouri River at Jefferson City, Missouri. He operated boats in connection with the Missouri Pacific Railroad transporting freight. when the rivers were at a low stage, this was a difficult job.

By this time he was well known as Captain Hauenstein, he conceived the idea of a light draught boat, on which could be transported the crew and fuel, using a barge to carry freight, and thus he could secure passage in low water, where as his competitors could be held up because of the river stage.

Mr. Hauensteins boat the Frederick and his barges carried cargoes from the upper reaches of the river to Osage City where he turned them over to the Missouri Pacific Railroad, the barges being able to carry as many as 1800 sacks of wheat at one time.

He held a masters license on the Missouri River from St, Louis to the mouth of the Missouri River and the Osage River, and he was also a licensed pilot.

His love for boats and the water led to the idea of building the Frederick, which was a well known freighter of the day. The boat was built at Tuscumbia, Missouri in 1882, under the supervision of Joseph Shepherd an expert boat builder whose hull was unequaled by any other boat in the trade. She was 100 feet long, 14 foot bean and 18 foot over all and a bow that had just the right sharpness and inclination to permit her to slip through waters with ease. Was built with the best and toughest burr oak timber and lived long in the Missouri and Osage Rivers, with but few repairs but at last sunk in 1903 while in Jefferson City. After operating the Frederick for a few years, she was sold to R. M. Marshall, brother-in-law of Mr. Hauenstein.

Captain Hauenstein was in the river trade for about fifteen years, and during this time he became personally acquainted with governor McClung, while they were rivals in business they were close personal friends. After leaving the river work he went into mercantile business for many years in Tuscumbia, where he was identified with numerous important enterprises, he was an extensive land owner and has a large farm on the Osage River about 5 or 6 miles above Tuscumbia, where he spends time raising better grade of cattle and has a sheep ranch on Panther Creek below Tuscumbia. At one time he was master of the Masonic Lodge, and also a Royal Arch Mason.

Has served many years as elder of the Presbyterian Church of Tuscumbia.

After nine years of marriage, Mrs. Hauenstein was killed after falling from a boat excursion on the return from St. Louis, Missouri.

He married, first, Elizabeth Goodrich, daughter of J M Goodrich and ( ) ( ), 1872. Died, 1881. Children:

5 i. Frederick[3] Hauenstein.

He married, second, Martha V Challes, daughter of Bennett Challes and Lavica Ann Smith, 4 Feb 1884. Born, 8 Dec 1852, in Tuscumbia, MO[8]. Died, 13 Feb 1922, in Tuscumbia, MO[9]. Burial in Tuscumbia, MO[10]. Children:

6 ii. Lela Hauenstein.
7 iii. William Henry "Billy" Hauenstein III.
8 iv. Elizabeth Hauenstein.

3. Philip Ferdinand[2] Hauenstein (William, 1). Born, 19 May 1855, in New York City, NY[11]. Died, 4 Jul 1924, in Tuscumbia, MO[11]. Burial in Tuscumbia Cem., Equality Twp., Miller Co., MO. Census: 1880[12]. The New Iberian (a weekly newspaper) in an article "Ancestors" by Peggy Smith Hake, 15 April 1981, published by Miller County Publishing Company, Inc., Iberia, MO, p.41, The old steamer named "J.R. Wells."--In 1872, William Hauenstein set up a saw mill in what is now Riverside Park in Tuscumbia. The following year he set up a grist mill also. He placed his oldest son William Hauenstein, Jr. in charge of the grist mill and his younger son, Captain Philip Hauenstein, managed the saw mill. In a matter of time, Captain Phil became the owner of the entire organization. In 1988, he and Captain Robert Marshall formed a partnership and established the first roller mill in Miller County. They sought a more suitable location for their mill moving it from the low ground of Goose Bottom to a site east of the town and started their new operation in June of 1894. In October of 1897, the original partnership was succeed by a company, incorporated under the State laws of Missouri. After this new company was organized, they began their boat building business in which they engaged for 25 years. The "J. R. Wells," named in honor of the first president of the company, Joshua R. Wells, was enrolled and commissioned for use in April of 1898. She was in operation until 1909 when her history came to an end in the flooding waters of the Osage River. Philip was elected to the Tuscumbia School Board in 1923 for a three year term, as reported in The Miller County Autogram, 5 April 1923. He was also a director of the Bank of Tuscumbia. He was a charter member and a deacon of the Presbyterian Church and a regular attendant at church and Sunday school.

He married Sarah Rebecca Riggens, daughter of George W Riggens and Sarah R ( ), 12 Apr 1882, in Miller Co., MO[13]. Born, 14 Jun 1859, in Cole Co., MO[14]. Died, 12 Apr 1915. Burial in Tuscumbia Cem., Tuscumbia, MO[15]. She was a talented musician and a member of the State Music Teacher's Association, always taking a great interest in music. A member of the Presbyterian Church. A note from her obituary: In 1865 at the close of the Civil War, when she was about six years old, her mother took her and her sister south to meet her father and her two brothers who were in the confederate army. Arriving at their destination, a point on the Red River, they learned that the elder Mr. Riggens (father of deceased), had died only a few days before. Joined, however, by the two young men, they started on their homeward trip, taking passage at Shreveport, Louisiana, on a large steamboat on which were several hundred confederate soldiers. On the passage down the Red River the steamboat was snagged and sank so quickly that a great many soldiers and others were drowned, the Riggens party barely escaping with their lives. Children:

i. May[3] Hauenstein. She married ( ) Wright.
ii. Emma Hauenstein. She married ( ) Cole.
iii. Sarah Hauenstein. She married ( ) Schillerman.
iv. Ida M Hauenstein.
v. Maude A Hauenstein. Born, 6 May 1885, in Tuscumbia, MO. Died, 9 Oct 1894, in Tuscumbia, MO[16]. Burial in Tuscumbia, MO[5].

STATE OF NEW-YORK.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

I, William Hauerstein

do declare on oath, that it is bona fide my Intention to become a Citizen of the United States, and to renounce for ever all allegiance and fidelity to any Foreign Prince, Potentate, State or Sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the King of Bavaria of whom I am now a subject.

Sworn, this 16th day of June 1854

Clerk's Office of the Superior Court Of the City of New-York.

I certify, that the foregoing is a true copy of an original Declaration of Intention, remaining of record in my office.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed the Seal of said Court, this day of June 1854

Clerk.
